

'BUY OUT CNIB DAY' WEDNESDAY

Students Urged To Buy Stand's Stock

Every student is urged to patronize the Canadian National Institute for the Blind stand in SUB Wednesday, the annual "Buy Out CNIB Day".

The day is held annually under sponsorship of Students Council to show the students' appreciation for the service offered by the blind in operating the confectionery stand. Objective is to buy out the complete stocks of candy, smokes and personal items.

In the two years that the day previously has been held, the objective has not been reached. However, students officials are confident that with co-operation the goal will be attained this year, since many students will be in the building to donate blood to the Red Cross Blood Clinic being held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Operator of the SUB stand is Jean Schmaus, who started only two weeks ago. This is the first confection stand she has run for the CNIB, having been a braille and typing instructor for the last four years. She is not completely blind, but has a defect in the muscles controlling her eyes which greatly hampers clear vision.

The CNIB operates some 16 stands in Edmonton similar to that in SUB.

U of A Has Good Chance To Win 'Corpuscle Cup'

By Esther Halstein

The second clinic of the Red Cross blood drive will open today in the Wauneita lounge, SUB, and is being extended to the afternoon of Feb. 2.

The campaign, which to date has been the largest in Western Canada with a registration of 1,728, gives Alberta a very good chance of winning the inter-iversity "Corpuscle Cup". Forty-seven per cent of the students have already donated.

Peter Allen, Med 4, organizer of the drive, is being assisted by Ross Gould, Ag. 4, and Park Davidson, Arts 2. Fifth year B.Sc. Nurses and women of the Theta fraternity are helping with the clinic.

Physiotherapy is again leading in the race for the "Transfusion Trophy," which goes to the faculty or school with the largest percentage of donors. Medicine has a two point lead in the struggle for the "Ash Trophy".

Free cokes and refreshments will be served to donors.

No edition of The Gateway will appear next Tuesday. The staff will be working on a special edition, to appear later, publicizing Varsity Guest Weekend. Organizations desiring publicity should arrange to have it in the Friday edition.

Four student political groups were still split right down the middle in their stands on the question of how the government shall be formed with mock parliament only four days off.

The LPP, the fifth party, is holding the balance and is prepared to vote against a possible government by either side.

That is the way Mock Parliament stacked up after Thursday's vote which gave Liberals 16 seats, Conservatives 14, Social Credit seven, CCF five, and LPP three, in the 45 member house.

Combined Liberal and CCF strength of 21 seats is pitted against a 21 seat combination of Social Credit and Conservative. Neither side seems prepared to give in so that the majority government can be formed and the LPP group is not prepared to support either group in government without certain concessions from the group seeking support.

The Political Science Club organizers of the Mock Parliament is thus left with the task of bringing about a working arrangement for the duration of Thursday's three hour session.

The Liberals, as the party with the largest vote, were asked to try to form a government after the election results were known. Neither they nor the Conservatives were able to overcome the handicap posed by the rigid alignment which developed in weekend caucuses.

The Political Science Club scheduled a further all-party caucus for Monday afternoon to thrash out the problem. (See dead line news for the results.)

Girls To Pay Boyfriend's Way

Coffee on the fairer sex will be the order of the day as Waa Waa weekend invades the campus Friday and Saturday. Established tradition has co-eds taking professors, male students and janitors to coffee during the two days.

The annual affair will be highlighted this year by a basketball game and a dance to be held in the Drill hall Saturday.

Edmonton Towne Hallers will take on the Winnipeg Kodiaks at 8:15 p.m. A sock dance will follow the game. Co-sponsors of the festivities are Henry Singer and the Women's Athletic Association.

Freedom Best At University

By Al Baker

"Freedom is the kind of atmosphere in which clear, accurate independent thought tends to develop best," said Dr. Norman MacKenzie, speaking about "What the Universities Would Like to Do with Students", before an audience of students and faculty members in Convocation hall Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, said at the outset that there isn't a great deal the universities can do with the young men and women who come to them, since circumstances and environment do the most important things that will happen to them.

Contrasting the nature and function of a university education with the purpose of the schools, he said that the universities tend to assume that students are responsible; however, certain standards are demanded, especially in the academic field.

"Everything which affects and influences an individual and makes him what he is" was Dr. MacKenzie's definition of education, as he spoke about the various aspects of a person that are recognized by a university and the activities that it supports. "But," he said, "the university's main concern and function is the training of the minds and intellects and characters of its students." He added that it is the responsibility of the university to pass on to its students knowledge through libraries, laboratories and the minds of professors, and to discover new knowledge through research and scholarship.

Dr. MacKenzie referred to the recently published volume of poetry, Friday's Child, by Dr. Wilfred Watson of the University of Alberta, as "the proper product of a university". In the pressures of a mass attitude toward life those who can

DEADLINE NEWS

MINORITY GOVERNMENT FOR MOCK PARLIAMENT

Liberals, with Bernie D'Aoust as prime minister, will go into Mock Parliament Thursday as a minority government, despite CCF support.

It was decided Monday at a political science executive meeting that the government will be maintained in office at the sufferance of the Progressive Conservatives. The PC's will abstain from voting in sufficient numbers to avoid causing the government to fall.

Sold Out

"Boy! They sure bought out the CNIB stand this year. There goes the counter now!"

Let's Buy Out CNIB

Wednesday is "Buy Out CNIB" Day.

The confectionery stand operated in the Students Union building by a blind person, under the sponsorship of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, is a service appreciated by all students.

Students Council sets aside one day each year on which students are urged to show their appreciation by patronizing the stand; everyone is urged to buy as much as they can afford. The objective is to buy out the complete stock of candy, smokes and personal needs.

In previous years, this objective has not been reached, but it is hoped that students will be more generous this year. With the large number of students coming to the building to donate blood on the same day, it should be easier than ever for the goal to be reached.

As The Gateway often has said in past years, the CNIB stand is poorly located. SUB is used mostly at night, when the stand is closed. A much better location, if the stand is to receive the most brisk daytime trade, would be the rotunda of the Arts building. However, officials insist that there is insufficient room there for a stand.

At present the stand does not get the business it deserves. This is all the more reason for students to go out of their way to patronize it at least one day of the year.

Why not buy a good stock of candy and smokes for the busy days of study ahead? Let's buy out the CNIB!

A Look Into The Future

As the teapot-témpet politics of the Mock Parliament election slowly simmer down, The Gateway claims the prerogative of the press, to extract otherwise-hidden meanings from the results and indulge in an attempt at political punditry, junior grade.

First of all, we may observe that Canada seems likely to continue as a two-party democracy, the two parties being the Liberals and the Conservatives. All the smaller parties showed up badly.

In particular, Social Credit, whose stronghold is Alberta, although they got more than either of the other small parties, received only half as many votes as the opposition Conservatives.

The surprisingly small returns of the CCF party go far to justify the obituaries which have been pronounced on it, for example, in a recent article in Saturday Night, Toronto. Here, as in Britain, a new and an old party have struggled for predominance of the Left; but, unlike its U.K. counterpart, the Canadian Liberal party has been strong enough largely to absorb its upstart rival.

In the second place, the electorate appears to have its feet planted firmly one on each side of the middle of the road. Left-wing parties, Liberals, CCF and LPP, came out slightly ahead of their right-wing rivals, Conservatives and Social Credit. If the LPP votes are dismissed as the result of levity rather than conviction, the two sides wind up even. The bulk of the votes went to the most moderate party of each side. In this respect also, a close parallel may be noted with recent British election results.

What factors would be likely to upset the present political picture? Three in particular:—

New men. Dynamic opposition leadership pitted against a slowly vegetating government cadre might unseat it without too much trouble.

New issues. At present there are no political issues sufficiently hot to make a strong appeal to the passions, or for that matter the reason, if any, of the Canadian voter. A question that succeeded in really splitting public opinion would decide an election.

Quebec. It is almost an axiom of Canadian politics that no party can govern successfully for long without considerable support from Quebec. If most or even half of Quebec were to become Conservative this in itself would be enough to overthrow the government.

Every aspiring prophet who does not claim the infallibility of revelation ought to leave himself a way of escape; here is ours. We have said everything on the assumption that U of A students are a fair cross-section of tomorrow's Canadian voting public. This may not be true. The only safe suggestion we or anyone, can offer is: Wait and see.

Winners of the 1955 National debating finals, Wendel Fulton, now studying in London, and Len St. Hill, still at Mount Allison University, have been awarded a 200 dollar prize by NFCUS, it has been announced.

This year's debating finals will be at the University of Western Ontario on Feb. 23, 24 and 25.

Prejudice--

—By The Artsman

The queen campaign is over. We can become civilized again.

Let it be understood: we have nothing against Queen week or the Engineering Students society as such. We do, however, become more than slightly nauseated when we think of certain irresponsible individuals in both engineering and, alas, the most ancient and revered Faculty of Arts and Science.

We're talking about those individuals or groups that destroyed or defaced signs displayed in conjunction with queen week. Their action was childish.

Equally childish was the action of those individuals who stole the first press run of last week's gag Gateway, "Flush."

The most irresponsible and petty of all, however, are the ones who played amateur barber during queen week. This isn't a personal grievance, by the way; our hair is still intact.

Plots and counter-plots to steal the queens and to wreck any plans would-be kidnappers plan are all part of the game, provided everybody who takes part is smiling. Retribution for those caught in the form of a dunking or some other prank without consequent after effects (e.g. short hair for a couple of months) is o.k.

But when a group of petty artsmen or ags deface valuable pictures in a mood of vengeance because they haven't the guts to make an attempt for the queens; and when a group of mob-inspired punks think it is a great joke to administer haircuts to all and sundry regardless of whether or not they have committed an offence against the engineers, this is going too far. Campus spirit has degenerated into spiteful cheapness. They have largely destroyed the gaiety of queen week; they have created no small amount of bad feeling.

One individual who was given a haircut for no reason whatsoever is suing. The Gateway editors received haircuts (why, we don't know—engineers fare just as well in the hands of the editors as any other faculty) and plan, as retribution, to keep their columns clean of the word "engineer" for the remainder of this term. This is childish too, by the way.

If they have a grievance, and we think they have a legitimate one, the editors should seek retribution through the proper channels, i.e. the courts or the Student Disciplinary Committee.

What's to be done? If students cannot act maturely on their own initiative, something must be done to prevent them from acting immaturely. Either the administration or Students council, possibly through their disciplinary committee, should take steps to see that such acts are curtailed in the future, with punishment for offenders.

It is a poor state of campus affairs when such measures become necessary, and we are proud neither of the engineers nor of our fellow artsmen when we say we feel those measures are needed now.

Christianity In Our Age

By Ralph Marshall

"Every local Christian community is a missionary community. Every Christian, a missionary. This is the word of the Christian in our age."

The speaker, Richard Shaull, dean of a presbyterian college in Brazil was challenging a group of 3,300 students representing more than 80 nationalities. The occasion, the Ecumenical Student Conference of the Christian World Mission, was a world conference held every four years, sponsored by the Student Volunteer Movement.

With the financial support of the SCM, six student represented the University of Alberta at this Ohio conference; Jan de Vrie and Ken Morris, both agriculture 3, John Lange, med 1; Ralph Marshall, theology 2, Alice Ross and Nancy Kondu, city teachers.

The busy schedule of the conference was designed to acquaint students with the revolutionary character of the present world, God's answer for this world in his reconciliation of the world through Christ (restoration of harmony) and the mission of the Church to bring this reconciliation to others. Specifically, we were confronted with the question: What is our mission as Christian students on the campus?

What is our mission? Our campus religious groups have existed for purposes of self-development. This, though important, is but one part of our Christian task. Another, and here lies the need and opportunity, is actively to participate in campus activities convinced that in each situation there is a contribution to be made.

If we fail to accept this responsibility then we shall reap the reward of those who strive only to save themselves.

Related to this necessity to be a missionary is the need to realize that society will some day expect from the students leadership. We must be fully trained. While in university we must strive to reach an understanding of politics and government, labor, social conflicts, economic problems, that we may be fully equipped to exercise able leadership when called to do so. Since the Christian task today is to take Jesus Christ into every sphere of human activity, the workers must have a clear grasp of the issues of today coupled with a total dedication to Him who would speak through them to the conflicts of our world.

Troublesome Mascot

WHEATON, III. (ACP) — Every newspaper office is supposed to have a mascot, but the staff of the Wheaton College Record is saddled with one that's proving to be quite a nuisance.

The mascot is a white mouse named Minnie who took up residence in the Record office some time ago. That in itself wasn't so bad, but Minnie chose as her abode one of the staff's best Royal typewriters, which meant that the Record was out one machine temporarily at least.

Nurses Receive Caps At Exercises

Eighty-eight student nurses of the class of September '58 were presented with their caps at the candle lighting Capping exercises held last Friday in the nurses' residence. The receiving of her cap signifies that each student has been accepted as a member of her school of nursing.

Miss Jeanie S. Clark, director of Nursing at the University hospital opened the exercises by welcoming the class to the Nursing profession. The students were then presented with their caps by Miss M. Ruth Thompson, associate director of Nursing Education.

Corrine Sundberg, president of the Macleod club welcomed the class to the school and Joyce Aylen replied for the class.

A prize of books was presented to Shirley M. Bragg, of Rockyford, Alberta, for the highest marks during the preclinical term. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr of the Women's Auxiliary.

Guest soloist was Janette MacDonald who sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Without a Song". Miss MacDonald and Miss Corrine Leisen, her accompanist, are both graduate nurses of the University hospital.

Each student was presented with a copy of the New Testament, a gift of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Gideons.

To close the exercises Mrs. M. Jane Lees, associate director of Nursing Service officiated in a candle lighting ceremony which was followed by the National anthem and the recessional.

Following the exercises a reception for students, parents and friends was held in the nurses' auditorium.

up 76 days, returning on September 7.

The fifth and sixth tours offer intensive travelling in Germany and Austria together, and France, respectively. The former will leave on May 24 and return on July 18, lasting 56 days. The latter tour of France will last 54 days, leaving on the 23rd of May and returning on July 15. The last tour in this quality category is an "Around the World" trip. It will leave San Francisco on June 20, lasting nine weeks, and returning on August 21.

There are three tours in the thrift grouping. The first leaves for England, Holland, Belgium, France, Andorra, Spain, Italy, Austria, Germany and Luxembourg, returning on July 30. The second sails on June 8 for the same countries, lasting 68 days, and returning on August 18.

The third and last tour is a coach and camping "wandertour". After leaving Montreal by air on June 7 members have 35 days to make their own individual arrangements and travel routines through Europe. This tour will end in Belgium on July 29.

distinguish are rare but important; if they are not found in the universities, they are not likely to be found elsewhere," he said.

Dr. MacKenzie said that the university has also a concern in other fields, especially athletics. Its chief responsibility here should be with the health, welfare and fitness of all students, although spectator sports are useful for building up college spirit, he said.

On the subject of student newspapers and especially the Ubysey, Dr. MacKenzie emphasized that freedom and responsibility go together. He quoted varying reports that described UBC's campus paper as: free from interference and having editorial writers of high quality; the vilest rag that could be imagined; and having light, irresponsible news content and editorial writers that displayed ignorance.

In spite of the fact that he frequently agrees with some of these uncomplimentary remarks about the Ubysey, Dr. MacKenzie said that the university still should give a campus paper a good deal of freedom. He said that in its limited environment a university paper can't do too much damage except to the feelings of the president and faculty, and that freedom here saves later damage to people that are important.

Dr. MacKenzie said that the university seeks to enable students to develop themselves to the maximum of their abilities, and hence every individual should have maximum freedom, subject to the rights of others and to the knowledge that no one is at the outset a mature, wise individual. He recognized the difficulties and dangers involved in both allowing and protecting freedom, and gave as a test of freedom "our willingness to allow others to do and say things we dislike or even hate". As an illustration of this he cited the embarrassment of his own university's administration over the Ubysey.

"The university is a place where human beings can adjust to themselves and their environment; if we can help to do this even in part and for a relatively small percentage of the population, we will have done something worth while," he concluded.

Chairman of the meeting Dr. MacKenzie addressed w'a's Students Union President John Bracco, who introduced the speaker by outlining his formal education and some of his other activities before he became president of the University of British Columbia.

This week, we'd like to analyse a radio program for you to show how they make such things.

We start with a short one, Campus Report. Every Thursday and Tuesday at 8:10 p.m., radio society gives you a 3 minute newcast. Time and talent expended in producing Campus Report is used in the following manner:

(a) Detective work. Sometime during the night, a clever third storey man sneaks into the Gateway for news. He may never escape, as the Gateway is a little short of staff just now.

(b) Script writing, editing and timing. This is the tricky part, as we have a strict rule that script writers must always be at least two words ahead of the announcer.

(c) Danger signalling. CKUA our operator, and people using scratchy pens in the mixed lounge must be warned that we are about to broadcast.

(d) Announcing. On each Campus Report, we feature a male, female and sports announcer. (A sentence like this will reveal whether you're in medicine or not.)

While the announcers are introduced each program, we also have heroes in the other departments, prominent among which are Terry Kehoe (who also announces), Jean Kett and Liz Colquhoun, who specialize in departments (a) and (b).

The announcers, who work in teams of three, include Terry Kehoe, Ev. Wright, Mary Sutcliffe, Dave Chetner, Earl Joudrie, Graham Laughren, Jim Edwards, and Jack Dubasz (Sports).

Well, the above are a few of radio society's inner workings and some of its trusty servants who try to keep you up on the news. We'll try to tell you more about it next time.

Program for this week is as follows:

Tuesday—
8:10 p.m.—Campus Report.

Thursday—
8:10 p.m.—Campus Report.

Pandas Beaten By Maxwells

By Dick Holmes
The Pandas met a Senior Women's team from Calgary, the Maxwells, in a basketball game at Athabasca Gym Saturday afternoon. For two quarters the game was a seesaw battle with the Pandas ahead 16-12 at the half. Then the roof fell in. The Maxwells went wild and outscored the Pandas 30-6 in the final half to register a convincing 42-22 win.

The Pandas threw a zone defence at the Maxwells and had them off balance for the opening half. In the second half the Maxwells opened up the game with a fast break and the Pandas never did recover. Connie Horeak scored 15 points for the losers.

Pat Sharplin:
First year in the School of Nursing from Camrose, plays guard 5 ft 4 ins. tall, 1st year with the Pandas.

Nora Wellbourn:

Hockey Bears Post 7-5 Win Over B & D

Golden Bear hockey team dropped the Edmonton and district Intermediate B league leaders, Burns and Dutton, 7-5 in an exhibition game at Varsity Rink on Friday.

Burns and Dutton opened the scoring when Lister slapped the puck behind Kryczka on a three way passing play from Campbell and Royer at the three minute mark of the first period. Bob McGhee scored Bears first marker when he beat Burns and Dutton netminder, Poush, on a goalmouth pass from defenseman Ernie Braithwaite. Austin Smith, Less Zimmer and Don McDonald teamed up on the Bears next counter to put the Bruins in front 2-1. Burns and Dutton rallied to score twice more and lead 3-2 at the end of the first session on goals by Peppy Campbell.

The Bears opened the scoring in the second frame with Scherban and Sorochnik pulling the trigger. Peppy Campbell, Burns and Dutton forward, scored his third goal of the game in the sandwich session to chalk up a hat trick and tie the score at 4-4 to end the second period.

Bears roared into command in the first ten minutes of the third period as they slapped home three unanswered goals. Bill Masson, Jerry Patsula and Ed Sorochnik were Bruin marksmen and rounded out Bears scoring for the night.

With Bears leading 7-4 in the last minute of play, Cal Howard broke through the Bear defence and slipped one by Kryczka unassisted to complete the scoring in the game with Bears winners by a 7-5 count.

Referee, Pete Connellan, handed out only two penalties in the clean contest, both going to Burns and Dutton defenceman, Ed McDonald.

Ice Chips:
Although Bears dominated play throughout most of the game, lack of polish around the net proved to be their main weakness as they missed many sure goals. Rookie Ernie Braithwaite played a sound defensive game and robbed Burns and Dutton forwards of many scoring opportunities by blocking their shots.

Burns and Dutton had difficulty in keeping the Bears in their own end as the Bears proved superior in the puck clearing department.

Neil Reinhart, Bear forward, is the latest victim of the probation bug leaving coach Clare Drake with only three lines. Seven defencemen are still trying out for a position on the club. The Bears next intercollegiate test will come at the end of February when they meet Saskatchewan in the remainder of the Hardy Cup series at Varsity rink.

Lineups:
Bears: goal, Kryczka; defence, Braithwaite, Mitenko, Ramsay, Buck, McDonald; forwards, Patsula, Masson, McGhee, Smith, Zimmer, Popik, Kalkind, Scherban and Sorochnik.

Burns and Dutton: goal, Poush; defence; Burch, McDonald, Sawchuk; forwards; Farquharson, Lister, Campbell, Grocholski, Rayer, Howard and Flach.

On Feb. 1 the Dowell Incorporated Company will interview graduates in chemical or petroleum engineering or geology for junior service engineers. Interested students should make appointments through the National Employment Service, room 141, North lab.

Bonspiels Begin; Playoffs Soon

By Al Odynsky
Curling is becoming more and more popular on the campus every year. Last year there were 55 rinks entered. This year we had 75 rinks entered but we had to cut off 15 of them due to lack of ice. The competition and calibre of play is improving because of the buildup of interest in our Alberta high schools.

The men's and women's bonspiels are being played this week. The girls intervarsity rink has been chosen and with Barb Beaton and Betty Jean Robertson back again this year the chances look good.

After the bonspiels are over the curling club has planned something a little different. A mixed bonspiel will be held. This will be open to anyone on the campus. Whether you Huskies came from behind Saturday night to best the Bears 68-65. They turned the trick Friday with a 56-52 win.

The two wins enabled the Huskies to take the lead in the Western Intercollegiate basketball stands two point up on the Bears and the Manitoba Bisons.

Bears built up a 38-29 half time lead in the Saturday tilt only to have the Huskies tie it midway through the final stanza. Huskies broke away from the Bears in the late stages of the game.

Windy Hudon lead the Huskies with 25 points. Norm Macintosh pumped in 19 points in a losing cause.

Saskatchewan goes to Winnipeg next weekend for two games against the defending champion Bisons.

U Of A Skiers Now At Banff

The U of A ski team under coach Gord Morrison left for Banff over the weekend for a final week's practice before competing in the annual Intercollegiate Ski Meet Feb. 5 and 6.

The Alberta boys will be competing against U.B.C. and five American colleges — University of Washington, University of Montana, Montana State college, College of Puget sound and Wenatchie Junior college. The University of Washington champions are favoured to be repeat winners.

Morrison reports the team is in good shape and says this is one of the strongest teams ever to represent Alberta. Skiing conditions have been good this winter and the boys have been to Banff on two previous weekends, so they should be in good shape.

Members of the team are:
Downhill: Barry McPhalen, Eng 2; John Derrick, Arts 2; Don Gill, Eng 1; John Holland, Eng4; Gord Morrison, Eng 4.

Cross Country: Kris Nyhus, Eng 4; Paul Gottaas, Eng 4; Jack Ready, Eng 4; Bill Geddes, Eng 4.

can curl or not doesn't matter and you don't have to be a regular curler. There will be a small entry fee of $1 per rink which will be used for prizes. Start planning your rink ahead of time because we will only take a certain number.

This year the men's intercollegiate curling championship will be held in Edmonton. Last year Gary Thode from the U of S was the winner. This year, because Gary Thode won't be coming and because it is in Edmonton, I think Alberta will win out.

On Feb. 18 we are having a dance in SUB featuring Marv Weisler's band with Edmonton's popular Ken Chaney. This dance is open to everyone, refreshments will be served, and the admission price is only 50 cents a couple.
